THIS QUESTION PAPER CONSISTS OF 4 PAGES (Including this front page)

Question 5

The turning point for revival of Urban Spatial Policy (USP) in government development programmes, legislation and policy promoted ideas and objectives of 'compactness and integration' (densification, land-use mix, transit).

- a) Draw a conceptual diagram to illustrate these elements. (5)
- b) A group of planning academics criticised South African spatial planning in terms of inappropriate modernistic planning (land use segregation & urban sprawl). What are the key alternative development proposals for urban restructuring they were advocating for implementation in urban spatial policy. (5)
- [10]

Question 6

The National Spatial Development Perspective (NSDP) is the converging instrument of the 'where' of government policy development. The main argument of the NSDP is to pinpoint areas of 'potential' or comparative advantage for priorities in resource allocation and infrastructure funding for development.

- a) Describe the criteria used to determine areas of 'potential'. (5)
- b) Describe the major contributions of the NSDP. (5)
- [10]

Question 7

- a) What are the basic steps / stages in policy formulation? (5)
- b) Analyse each respective local authority priority in respect of current urban policy challenges in Namibia. Rewrite and reprioritise (motivate new priorities) and explain how your new policy priorities can be implemented at local authority level. (5)
