QUESTION 1

The world is being controlled not by one single entity or person. However, control is vested in a few ultra rich people of whom a substantial undefined number have their roots in ancestral wealth that originated from the lineage of royalty, tradition and religion. The Vatican had relinquished some of its power to governments in exchange for sovereignty, self-governance and diplomatic immunity with its own 'government' and police force. Multi-National Corporations developed from twelve of the richest families with some royal bloodline linkages that control information and outsmarted most people. Rich elites control private banks such as the Federal Reserve Bank and all private central banks that are part of the Bank of International Settlements (BIS), the central bank of all central banks. The BIS has great influence on governments and the World Economic Forum (WEF). This non-elected private association does not represent any government or people of any country. However, the WEF has political immunity as a private association and has enormous influence on the United Nations, for example in the formulation of the Sustainable Development Goals.

What can be done to emancipate people to become authentic, sovereign human beings that govern themselves and accept full accountability for their past, present and future, not relying on governments?
